WINTER SPRING SUMMER FALL

SUMMER ARTS SERIES

TOP ROW

Once Upon a Tune • Circus Berzerkus

BOTTOM ROW

A Magic Show • China through Dance

Quite a Catch • Garden Party

Quite a Catch

Wednesday, June 13, 2007
10:00AM / 11:30AM

What does it mean to have characteristics like patience, compassion, perseverance and tolerance? Ron teaches the meaning of character through an interactive combination of wacky cartoon voices, improvisational skills, rap-style patter and extraordinary juggling feats. Supports current brain-based learning research that suggests early exposure to movement on both sides of the body can enhance a child's reading ability. Ron teaches students how to juggle.

Once Upon a Tune

Wednesday, June 20, 2007
10:00AM / 11:30AM

Mix Dr. Seuss, Brothers Grimm and Maurice Sendak and what do you get? Once upon a tune! Wendy uses children's classics such as Green Eggs and Ham, Little Red Riding Hood, Alligators All Around, Oh the Things You Can Think, and Horton Hatches the Egg to produce a delightful concert that encourages children to read.

All tickets are $4.00.

China through Dance

Wednesday, June 27, 2007
10:00AM / 11:30AM

Travel to the Far East with Lisa Chyn, whose colorful classical and folk Chinese dances introduce students to China's rich cultural traditions in dance and music. Between performances of iconic Chinese dances like the Silver Plate of Good Fortune and the Ribbon Dance, Lisa talks with students about the Han Dynasty and the fantastic dances that took place at the Imperial Court. Students hear the sounds of instruments like the er-hu, pipa and sanxian, all representative of the Chinese musical tradition.

Garden Party

Wednesday, July 11, 2007
10:00AM / 11:30AM

You can't "beef" this nocturnal fantasy in a vegetable garden. See performances by the Dancing Baryshni carrots and Magician David Cabbage field. And you won't want to miss the puppet show, "Little Red Radishood" performed, of course, by vegetable puppeteers.

A Magic Show

Wednesday, July 18, 2007
10:00AM / 11:30AM

"Amazing, Extraordinary, Funny, Very Entertaining!" ...are just a few words to describe the amazing magical entertainment of comedy magician Arthur Atsma. Tricks with cards, coins, borrowed watches, and rings highlight a performance that is filled with audience participation, and true entertainment. Coins vanish and reappear, a comedy of errors occurs with an audience members watch (only to magically come back together in an impossible place) bottles appear out of nowhere, and (if permissible) fire is eaten like a snack! Amazing magic for all!

Circus Berzerkus

Peter Hart

Wednesday, July 25, 2007
10:00AM / 11:30AM

Circus Berzerkus features extraordinary hand-crafted specialty puppets from around the world and a circus theme to teach positive messages about the importance of school. Sometimes school can be a zoo, but what about a circus? This circus-themed marionette show uses puppets that dance, juggle and swing from a trapeze to help students learn how library, reading and math skills all relate to the art of puppetry.
